The Ylang Ylang Passionate Serenity

Step through the long, flowing curtains into the heart of the Ylang Ylang, an elegant romantic hideaway.

The first entry to The Ylang Ylang's two-story living areas gives the impression of walking into an art gallery where visitors are welcome to enjoy food and wine and hang out with friends.

Indeed, I am not exaggerating when describing The Ylang Ylang in this manner. The villa owner has dedicated much of her life to the study of fine arts and architecture. Therefore it's no surprise that The Ylang Ylang itself functions as a gallery with its beautiful arts displayed in every nook and cranny.

When first stepping into the living room, the symmetric wooden staircases that appear on the right and left seduce guests to reroute upstairs before venturing deeper into the villa. The mezzanine feels like another building with its alfresco seating areas on both sides, which climax on the veranda in the form of a large day bed, located directly above the door connecting the living area with the pool.

Returning to the longer area, the concentration would split depending on interests. Movie addicts may be drawn to the media room, where one can browse the extensive DVD and book library, whilst budding chefs will be delighted to find an exquisite dining table set for eight, adjacent to the well equipped kitchen.

In front of the living pavilion, the fifteen metre pool creates a reflective carpet that leads through the sculpture garden. It is here that provides the epicenter for the many functions held at the villa, including parties for the rich and famous. Flanking the pool are pathways that send guests through to the three bedrooms on either side, designed symmetrically to give The Ylang Ylang two identical master suites with private Jacuzzi facing the sandy beach and the splendid views of the ocean from the east coast of Bali.

The architect has put her warm personality into the design. The Ylang Ylang functions perfectly as both an event venue and as a cozy island retreat, fulfilling her intentions. To realize your dreams and share that very special occasion with your loved ones for a holiday, birthday, party or business gathering, you will find The Ylang Ylang an oasis of romantic serenity passionately seducing all your senses.

An elegant fusion of traditional Balinese with contemporary grandeur gives The Ylang Ylang the feel of a spiritual palace, where one can unite body, mind and soul.

Nestled between coconut trees and a landscaped garden on the South East Coast of the Island of the Gods, The Ylang Ylang is a retreat to enjoy absolute calm and serenity, a special place to feel deliciously suspended in time. This spectacular beachfront property situated on a deserted stretch of black sand beach, known for its great healing properties, offers stunning views across the Badung Strait. Temptation awakens you in the morning with the blessing of a sunrise over the distant Nusa Penida, one of Bali's smaller sister islands.

The two wings to the right and left provide six bedrooms in total, all centred on a large courtyard pool with unobstructed sea views. Two ocean view master bedrooms with King size beds and sunken baths enjoy a private terrace with their own dip pool. Adjacent are the Queen bedrooms with en suite bath and shower, adjoining doors open up to the junior room which is also fitted with its own shower and toilet facilities.
